Dear Leonie Greefkens,

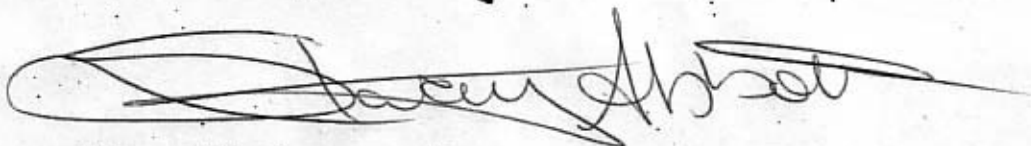

Thank you for your letter, dated July 12, about your video magazine INSERT/the go between/. I think that the project is fascinating and will be filling the long neglected gap that is the home video market. People who are not as familiar with the material or who cannot get out to the occasional screenings that are decreasing at a shocking rate. New ways of reaching these audiences must be found and I believe that your solution is the road of the future. It is for this reason that I, on the behalf of the London Filmmaker's Co-op, will happily join your team.

As I am the Distribution Organiser for the LFMC, I am directly responsible for the collection of films that we hold. I therefore will be your contact with respect to any further discussion of this work. What I therefore need to know now is where do we start? Do you have a specific idea of the type of material that you want to include? How much Co-op material would you need per issue and in what format do you need the material sent to you? Will all of the transferring be done in Holland? I have a lot of further questions but perhaps it is best if you send me all the information about the operation of the magazine and we'll take it from there.

I would like to once again confirm the LFMC's (and my own) commitment to this project.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Yours sincerely,

Stacey Abbott
